"The Government Needs Stenographers and Bookkeepers"

The above is the heading of an announcement recently sent out from Washington. It is our SPECIAL BUSINESS to train stenographers, bookkeepers and clerks for the Government, for the business man and for teaching commercial branches.

NOW IS THE TIME TO ENTER. SCHOOL CONTINUES RIGHT THROUGH THE YEAR

Fall Term Opens September 3

TUITION PAYABLE MONTHLY

If you finish in three months, you pay for only three months. Three teachers recently finished our bookkeeping course and the entire cost—board, room, tuition and all other expenses was only $142.50. We placed them in positions paying $90 a month. Before entering our school they taught for $50 a month for five months a year. Now they work twelve months a year.

We do not charge for placing our pupils in positions when they are qualified. We do not charge for our diploma upon graduation. One tuition admits you to all our courses. We do not make extra charge for extra branches.

This is the ONLY SCHOOL IN THE STATE that owns its building. That means we teach our pupils to be businesslike by example. It also means the best in the way of light, ventilation and arrangement of class rooms. In fact, we have the best in everything. Our teachers are SPECIALISTS.

DORMITORY AND RESTAURANT connected with the school. Enter at once—don't delay. Delay may rob you of a fine salary. We are ready at all times.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA.

PROMINENT MAN DIES IN MARIETTA, OHIO.

The following item regarding the death of Mr. Thos. W. Frye in Marietta, Ohio, is taken from the Marietta Journal under date of July 29. Mr. Frye was a brother of Capt. H. E. Frye, who for a number of months had charge of the government gauging of the Tug and Levisa rivers and made headquarters in Louisa.

Marietta was shocked at 2 o'clock this afternoon to learn that death had claimed Joseph W. Frye, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and one of the leading men of this city. Mr. Frye died at Marietta Hospital, where he underwent an operation last week for gall stones, internal hemorrhages were the direct cause of his death, the victim having suffered a relapse last night.

Mr. Frye had been a lifelong resident of Washington county and there was no man better known or more highly respected in the community. Had been active in public lines for a number of years, having been Director of Public Service of Marietta under the Okey administration, and was serving his second term as president of the Chamber of Commerce at the time of his demise. He was a Christian gentleman in the true sense of the word, a public spirited man in the fullest degree, and the place made vacant by his untimely death will be difficult to fill.

Joseph Williams Frye was born in a farm in Adams Township, August 21, 1859, a son of the late John Frye and Melinda Mason Frye. He was educated in the Lowell schools and later at Ohio State University, and following his graduation, came to Marietta where he engaged in the brokerage business. He continued to follow this line to the time of his death.

Some years ago Mr. Frye was married to Miss Nellie Sprague, who died a short time later. His second wife was Miss Helen Munson, of Zanesville. He also is survived by his aged mother, and by one brother, H. E. Frye, of Second street, Marietta.

A member of the Baptist church, he was an officer in that organization and a faithful worker in its membership. Fraternally, he was a Mason, having gone through the various branches as far as the Knights Templars.

HE'S GOT 'EM RIGHT!

Washington, August 2.—General Pershing quotes from a letter found on the battlefield written by a German Lieutenant who was later killed, to his father, the writer's experience in the Chateau Thierry sector.

The letter further described the enemy fire as terrific. In closing the letter said:

"Summing it all up, I think we have underestimated French and his reserves and especially the Americans. I have a premonition I shall lose my skin also. I wish it were tomorrow."

FORMER CEREDO GIRL NOW WITH HOSPITAL UNIT.

The Ceredo, W. Va., Advance says: Miss Edna Wilhelmina Grothe, a former Ceredo girl, has landed in France and is doing her part toward caring for the wounded and afflicted. In a letter recently received by her mother, Mrs. M. E. Grothe, of Huntington, Miss Grothe recites some soul-stirring narratives, and presents a picture of suffering by the English people little suspected in this country.

Miss Grothe is attached to the army nurse corps with the American expeditionary force.

"The trip through England was beautiful," wrote Miss Grothe, following a brief description of the journey across the Atlantic. "We saw only old men and young boys. Everyone else is in the army. The women do street work as well as farm work."

"Everywhere we went we saw boys. They, as well as the nurses, are well received, and whenever our boys would march through the streets the little boys would hang to their hands and march along until their little legs were exhausted."

"We nurses are 600 strong and when we marched four abreast we were one dark blue cloud."

"We see thousands of our own men and there is no professional dignity. When we meet everyone waves a flag and just yells."

"The sun sets between 5 and 10 p. m., and it is not dark until after 10 o'clock."

"We have butter only at breakfast, but I do not mind it as much as I thought I would."

Miss Grothe went from England to France on a hospital ship. She described the zig-zag course taken by the ship and then accounted for the safe passage by writing:

"Our convoy was so large that it was impossible for the submarines to attack us. You know the German cannot do anything openly. They are afraid to attack us. They only try to frighten us by blowing up defenseless coal and fishing boats."
